A NEBRASKA SUGGESTION.

State Senator Beale of Nebraska suggests to Governor McIntyre of Colorado the idea of the Legislature of that State making an appropriation to construct a depository for silver bullion. The bullion could be deposited and certificates issued upon the same to the market value of the bullion, which certificates could be used as money by the people and in this way the demand for more money could be met.

Mr. Beale is satisfied that the demand such a scheme would create for bullion would cause an advance in the price and many of the benefits sought for by the free silver advocates would be reached and no law violated. If the plan meets with favor in the silver producing States, Mr. Beale proposes to introduce a bill in the Nebraska Legislature to carry it into effect.

As the certificates issued against bullion deposits would not pass as money unless they were made a legal tender for debts there is no almost insurmountable obstacle to the scheme and that is in Article I, Section 10, of the constitution, which reads:

No State shall enter into any treaty, alliance, or grant letters of marque and reprisal; coin money; emit bills of credit; make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts; pass any bill of attainder; ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligations of contracts, or grant any title of nobility.

That constitutional inhibition of making anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts doubtless prevent States from utilizing the scheme proposed by Senator Beale of Nebraska. That something should be done to advance the price of silver bullion will not be questioned except by the ultra gold men. During the current year, according to the President's message, $80,541,000 worth of silver bullion was exported from the United States. The average price per ounce of that silver was about 65 cents. Now if it is possible for the silver producing States and the other States that sympathize with them to increase the price of silver bullion to foreign purchasers they certainly ought to do it as Congress will do nothing of that kind. With free coinage the foreign nations, which purchased $60,000,000 worth of silver bullion in the United States last year would have to pay $120,000,000 for it, and they must have it to keep up their silver circulation. They coined that bullion and doubled its value, the very thing the United States could do and would do if it were not for the influence of foreign gold in our elections.

THE FUNDING BILL MAY NOT PASS.

Next week Congress will reassemble and unless the order made before, adjournment is changed, three days will be devoted to a discussion of the Funding bill after which a vote will be taken. The general impression has been that the bill will pass as only members of the committee which recommended its passage, and such others as Speaker Reed feel disposed to recognize, will be permitted to discuss the measure.

Now, however, a special from Washington to a paper friendly to the Funding bill, says the published interview with Senator Thurston in which he says there is little or no prospect of the Funding bill passing the Senate at this session of Congress, was a great surprise to the friends of the measure, as they felt confident of favorable action on the bill. Senator Thurston was leading counsel for the Union Pacific for many years before the company came to the conclusion that he could better subserve their interests in Congress than in the Courts, and it is assumed that he knows whereof he speaks, and great weight is, therefore, attached to his opinion.

Some doubts are expressed as to the bill passing the House as opposition is said to have developed in unexpected quarters. Chairman Powers of the Committee on Pacific Railroads is confident, however, that it will receive a majority in the House of Representatives. As the discussion of the question will be restricted he is probably right. But in the Senate there are no gag rules. Every member is permitted to speak on any question that comes before the body. As in the case of the Repeal bill in the extra session a few determined Senators can prevent the passage of the bill by prolonging the debate, as the session ends by Constitutional limitation on March 3rd and the appropriation bill and other important measures must receive attention.

COLONEL OZIS THE MAN.

Colonel H. G. Otis, editor of the Los Angeles Times, is said to be nearer a Cabinet position than any other man in California. While no delegations have been sent to Canton to boom him, he has been there himself and was cordially received and made a favorable impression. He served in the same regiment with Major McKinley in the war, and he lost no opportunity of keeping the Major before the public. His paper was an ardent supporter of McKinley during the campaign and he is more likely to get a place in the Cabinet than any other man on the Pacific Coast, according to reports received at Los Angeles from Mr. Hanna's and Mr. McKinley's headquarters.

Chinese Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 30.—Although the police have tried to show that the two dead bodies found in Chinatown yesterday were cases of suicide, it now seems certain that both were murdered as a result of high-binder malice. Jew Jing was waylaid and shot, and the other Chinese was shot and then hanged, his body being left swinging to a beam, to give the appearance of suicide. The police cannot locate the murderers, but there seems no doubt the murders were part of the highbinders' plan for the subjugation of Chinatown.

Justly Indignant.

LOS ANGELES, December 30.—W. H. Homer, organizer of the Lumbermen's Protective Credit Company of Sacramento, who is now in this city, claims that great injustice has been done him by the report sent out from Sacramento last night that he had skipped out after uttering worthless checks. The police here say that no one is looking for Homer as far as they know, and he is not trying to keep his whereabouts from being known. Homer is much incensed over the alleged treachery of his business associates in Sacramento.

Jealousy Causes a Tragedy.

PROMIA, Ill., December 30.—The body of Ibbenezer Scott was found on the river bank with his brains blown out and the gun clutched firmly in his hand. Last night he had filled his wife's neck and shoulder with shot, and then he went out and killed himself. The woman, it is thought, will recover. Jealousy was the principal cause of the tragedy.

A Capitalist Dying.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 30.—Asa Fisk, the well known local money lender, is dying of old age and pneumonia. He came here twenty years ago at the age of sixty, with $20,000. By lending this out at high rates of interest in small sums, he is reputed to have accumulated upwards of a half million dollars.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTICES.

Dynamite exploded on the British ship Delta in Plymouth harbor yesterday, sinking the vessel with forty men.

Governor-elect Tanner of Illinois was married yesterday to Miss Cora Edith English at St. Paul's Cathedral, Springfield.

Herman Waterman, one of the oldest grain dealers in San Francisco, has filed a petition in insolvency; liabilities $38,287; assets $15,707.

The Commercial Bank of Selma, Alabama, which was established in 1880 with a paid up capital stock of $800,000, failed to open yesterday.

Levin Brothers, grocers who operated two stores in San Francisco, two in Oakland and one in Berkeley, failed yesterday with liabilities amounting to $80,000.

The financial feeling at Minneapolis is better and the announcement that the Exchange Bank had suspended payment for a few days did not change the feeling.

The secret service agents have captured a counterfeiting outfit in New York and arrested Martin Leonard, Mary Hassen, Patrick Burke and William Green, alleged bogus coiners.

The steamer Bermuda, known in connection with filibustering expeditions, was searched by United States revenue officers at New York yesterday. She had coal and provisions and a crew of twenty-five men aboard, but no munitions of war.

William H. Post, a mailwagon driver, has been arrested in New York on a charge of robbing the mails. Mail from the west had been stolen and packages rifled and thrown into the water. Post denies that he is the culprit and is held under $5,000 bail.

The Government for the first time since the struggle for Cuban independence begun has given permission to the customs officers to clear for Cuba any vessel loaded according to manifest, with munitions of war presumably for the insurgents.

The Lehigh Mills in South Easton, Pa., have shut down, throwing 100 persons out of employment. The plant was started nearly one hundred years ago and this is the first shutdown it has experienced. Depression in business is given as the cause.

The Republican Caucus Committee appointed to draft a bill to provide for an international monetary conference has agreed upon a measure. It is brief and merely confers upon the President the right to appoint delegates to any conference that may be called which has for its object the re-establishment of bimetalism.

The Attorney General of Colorado gives it as his opinion that the quarantine against Utah sheep, established by the Governor, will remain in force until his proclamation is rescinded by executive order. Utah sheep men have been preparing to drive their flocks into Colorado at the expiration of Governor McIntyre's term in January, but it is understood that they will abandon the idea.

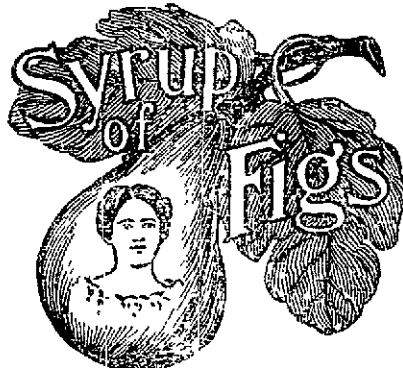

The torn fragments of the body of a man were found along the railroad track for a distance of a thousand yards at Oakland, California. It was supposed some tramp had fallen off the train and been mangled, but finally the face of a young man was found near the track riddled with buckshot. It was supposed that the man had been murdered and the body placed on the track to conceal the crime.

The Irish landlords are holding meetings and protesting against the injustice of over taxation and calling upon the Government to remedy the evil. Lords and earls and bishops of the Catholic and Episcopal churches are joining the farmers in the agitation. Lord Castledown said he hoped history would not have to be repeated and that the people of Cork would not have to do what the people of Boston did in 1773, when they threw a cargo of tea into the harbor as a protest against taxation.

The young wife of Jacob Fischel, who is an old man, sued for a divorce at St. Louis. During the proceedings in court Fischel became very angry and opened fire on his wife, her uncle and her attorney as they were leaving the court room. One bullet struck Mrs. Fischel's left shoulder, another struck her uncle in the breast, but a rib saved his life, and a third grazed her attorney's arm. Fischel was hustled into the Sheriff's office and will be held for assault to commit murder.

The U. S. Consul at Havana has made a report to Secretary Olney regarding the case of Henry Delago, the Cuban correspondent of the New York Mail and Express, whose capture and imprisonment by the Spanish authorities the secretary ordered investigated. The report says that Delago was taken prisoner by the Spanish troops in the province of Pinar del Rio; that he belonged to Maceo's staff and had been in command of artillery, and that a letter from Maceo was found on his person. It having been represented to the Consul that Delago was a native born American and all the rights to which he is entitled have been claimed for him. He is confined in the military hospital outside of Havana.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant and laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

In a barrel of New York apples at San Bernardino was found a letter from the farmer's daughter that helped to barrel the fruit. She wrote that they got 75 cents for the barrel, and asked the consumer to let her know what he was charged for them. Just $1.72 was his answer.

Tom Hale, wife and child, arrived from Kansas last night en route to California and remained over to visit Reno friends. Mr. Hale was formerly a resident of Reno, being connected with the reduction works. Of late years he has been superintendent of the Keystone mine at Amador, California.

THE FINAL MEETING.

The Board of Commissioners Closing Up the Year's Business.

Wandering into L. D. Folsom's store yesterday the reporter was met with the following from ex-Commissioner McLaughlin:

"The disintegration and dissolution, as it were, of the old Board of Commissioners is about to take place, and trusted and tried public officials, through lack of appreciation and gratitude from the people, are forcibly retired into innocuous desuetude, yes, forever shelved. A strange world, brother. To-day we are popular; tomorrow ignored, our good deeds not considered, but our shortcomings and slightest mistakes are ever and anon held up before an uncharitable constituency, and used as a means to drive us to an ignominious political grave should we presume to aspire to public favor. Oh, brother, I tell you that 'man's inhumanity to man makes countless millions mourn.' I have been there, brother, and know whereof I speak. We are unappreciated, honesty and ability are below par and the land that a few years ago wore nature's sweetest smile and flowed with milk and honey has become a desert for us and not an oasis within our range of vision, but there's a chance to sell two bits' worth of sugar, brother, and in order to keep the moss and ivy from growing too rapidly this humid weather I must attend to business."

Taking the hint the court-house was visited and the Board of Commissioners was found in session closing up its affairs. Now and then a deep sigh could be heard, but otherwise there was a deep silence. Finally Chairman Hymers, in a voice that indicated deep emotion, addressed the members, saying that for nearly twenty years he had performed the arduous duties of County Commissioner without fear or favor and very satisfactory to himself, but for the last two years there had been a few obstreperous people who had caused some annoyance, but that was all right. It was painful to him to part from his associates, but circumstances made it necessary. At that point Tom's feelings overcame him and he sat down.

Commissioner Alt now arose and said that he didn't care a snap for the office, but regretted that he could not serve the people longer. The affairs of the county needed careful judgment in their management and he hoped the new Board would use the same care and economy that the present Board had used in road and other important matters. He regretted breaking off the pleasant associations, but felt relieved to know that he had been able to serve out his official term.

Mr. Alt gave way to Commissioner Cobb, who was visibly affected, so much so in fact that he was jubilant. He was glad that it was over, that he had drove a logging team down hill where the rough look wouldn't hold, had rode and drove cayuses, been stopped by footpads and had had other experiences, but had never been so scared or worked so hard as since he had become a County Commissioner.

The members then arose and joined hands and sang: "When will we three meet again." The Board then adjourned.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

Statement of the Southern Pacific to its Stockholders.

The Southern Pacific Company announces that after January 1st it will pay a dividend of 1/2 per cent on the stock of the Central Pacific Railroad in dividend warrant No. 81.

The Southern Pacific Railway's gross earnings for October were $5,179,912, a decrease of $100,803; net earnings $2,321,970, a decrease of $58,205; gross from January 1st to October 31st, $51,878,604, a decrease of $1,504,857; net $13,354,424, a decrease of $179,034.

The Central Pacific Railroad earned net for October $613,468, an increase of $51,630; from January 1st to October 31st, $4,003,287; increase $21,644.

The San Francisco and North Pacific road earned net for November $20,000, an increase of $3,592, and from July 1st to November 31st, $142,630, a decrease of $11,627.

NO CHANGE IN THE MINT.

The Appropriation Less Than Usual. The Carson Appeal says: No change will be made in the mint for some time to come, or at least until July, 1897. The rumor that five men would be dismissed is without foundation.

The Ways and Means Committee reduced the appropriation $5,000, which, if allowed by Congress, will necessitate either a reduction in forces or in wages. This has been a common occurrence for a number of years, but through the strenuous efforts of our representatives in the national legislature the appropriation has always been replaced at its original figure.

K. OF P. Ball.

This evening the much talked of and looked forward to masquerade ball of Amity Lodge No. 8, K. of P., takes place. The Pavilion has been handsomely decorated for the occasion and everything is in readiness for the biggest and best event of the kind that has taken place in Reno. Those who have not yet secured their costumes had better apply early to-day at the rooms in the Nevada Bank building where they are on exhibition for they are going fast.

TORN AND DISMEMBERED.

The Terrible Fate of a Sighted Wife. A New Haven, Connecticut, dispatch says:

"Ella Eager, whose body torn and dismembered, was found on the railroad of the Shore Line road in this city, committed suicide by throwing herself under the wheels of the locomotive her husband, Engineer Fred Eager, was running. The couple had quarreled two weeks before and had separated."

The wife grew moody over her misfortune and the neighbors say that she often remarked that she wished she was dead. At 6 o'clock in the evening she put on her things and went out. She went to the station, and her husband saw her there just as he had come on for duty, ready to make his run to New London.

He did not appear anxious to see his wife, and it is supposed that Mrs. Eager, noticing his indifference, became desperate and resolved on suicide. The woman walked away from the depot and followed a route along the railroad track. Her husband's train started at 6:55. At that hour she was a few hundred yards from the depot. The train came on with increasing speed and achieved rapid momentum when it came to Mrs. Eager.

To carry out her resolve was the work of an instant. After being killed her body was carried along for a thousand yards, when it was caught in a frog of the track and thrown to one side. The husband sped away on his engine, little thinking perhaps what the machinery under his feet had done.

POWNING AND MAEK VS. THE COUNTY.

The Court Decides Against the Action of the Commissioners.

In the District Court yesterday, Judge Talbot of Elko presiding, the case of Powning and Maek vs. the county of Washoe came up for trial. The action was brought to quiet title to a certain lot situated on the east side of South Virginia street opposite the Riverside Hotel. The Board of County Commissioners made an order disclaiming any right on the part of the county to the lot in question. The District Attorney in defiance of the order answered the complaint. The day was occupied by opposing counsel in discussing the action of the board, and the Court held that the Board of County Commissioners had no authority under the law to make the order, and that so far as it affected the case at bar the order was void. The case will now be tried by jury and the trial will be resumed to-day.

SALVATION ARMY.

Preparing for a Grand Time This Evening.

A large force of Union Christian workers and Salvation Army contingents from Carson City will visit Reno New Year's Eve. The party will be mounted on horses and bicycles, a wagon bringing up the rear with drums, etc. Captain Van Dyke, Lieutenant Walliscroft and Miss M. H. Van Dyke, who was awarded the first prize in War Cry sales a few weeks ago, will be present. Miss Van Dyke rode the mountains of Tuolumne county, 900 miles, alone. Tong Wing and other notable characters will be with the happy crowd. Good order will be maintained and everybody is invited. Captain White and the local contingent are preparing for an interesting time. The proceeds go to Miss White and Miss Johnson, who have been most successful workers in the army here and deserve support.

Seriously Damaged.

The big smokestack at the electric light station blew down between 5 and 6 o'clock yesterday morning. A whirlwind seemed to sweep across the town from the east and struck the works. A post to which a guy wire from the stack was fastened broke off, allowing the mass of iron to topple over. The roar caused by the falling mass was heard for blocks. Considerable damage was done and the works will be crippled for a day or two.

Caffrey says the McKinley wave of prosperity struck the electric light smokestack yesterday morning and had the same effect on the works as it has on some of the eastern banks.

Lawyers in Battle Array.

A rather peculiar phase in yesterday's court proceedings was the fact that Judge Mack of the First District was one of the parties to the suit on one side, Judge Cheney of the Second District had an interest in the case on the opposite side, though not a party in the suit. Judge Talbot of Elko presided. It was a battle that created considerable interest and a number of the members of the bar were present.

At the Opera House.

Katie Emmett appeared at McKiesick's Opera House last night before a large audience in the comedy-melo-drama "The Walls of New York." The play was well staged and Miss Emmett acted her part well and was supported by a good company. During the second act a number of good specialties were produced which were heartily applauded. Altogether the performance was first-class.

THE GOLDEN STATE.

California Is Widely Celebrated, but Little Known.

In the first place, California is known not by what millions of people have seen, but by what millions have read. Europe is better known by contact to Americans than California. A prominent American author recently "discovered" California and filled the newspapers with the interesting and suggestive impressions it had made upon his mind. He had been to Europe 30 times and to the Pacific coast once, which is once oftener than many other distinguished travelers of the eastern seaboard. Still further, the Anglo-Saxon race is dealing with new conditions in California. Coming from dense forests, from a land of heavy rainfall and from a temperate climate, where winters are long and stern, it settled in treeless deserts, in a land of slight and peculiar rainfall and under a sky that never knows the winter. Finally California is in its infancy. Born in a paroxysm of speculation—of the wilder world has seen—California is a trying experience of the people who have come to the state. The true character of the state is being revealed by the extraordinary progress of the last half a century several changes have swept through the social and political life of the state, changing the conditions of labor and of business. Even for those living in the heart of these events it has been difficult to read their significance and to see their influence on the ultimate destiny of the place and people. What is to be the result to the outside world? California has meantime appeared like a land of gold, palms and oranges, a land of millionaires and hopeless paupers, of enviable farmers living luxuriously on small sections of paradise and of wretched laborers herded in stifling tenements? Such are the conflicting aspects of the Golden State to those who view it from afar.—William E. Smythe in Century.

SELECTING PICTURES.

"The value of a picture depends upon what there is in it for its possessor," writes William Martin Johnson in The Century's Home Journal, on the "Selection and Framing of Pictures." "A painting by an amateur may be more pleasing to your eyes than one of Raphael's cartoons. Therefore sell your picture to the highest bidder, and when you have a fine little painting buy back the canvas if you have learned to see it."

"You can tell you how to understand it without your seeing it, studying it, living with it, and more than any one can tell you how to tell you from how. You must first have had experience with cloth. Learn a language before you try to converse. But do not go so far as to imagine that you must learn drawing and painting before you can appreciate pictures. The less you know about technique the more capable you will be of looking at a painting with an uneducated eye. Get at the artist's intention. Don't express an idea to you? Is he interesting in the way he tells his story? Does he convince you of a truth? Is the picture a statement of a head, a heart, a soul, or a having the characteristics of an individual? Does it look like a human being? Suppose a landscape is under discussion—do the trees sway, the clouds float? Is there any atmosphere in the painting? These are the tests of a painter's facility with language. But more than this is required. It is the intellectual behind the brush. Herein lies the difference between sublime art and the commonplace."

Rockers.

As far back as the seventh century the venerable Bede wrote, "The women now are so luxurious that they do have chairs with wooden circles on the legs and which sway back and forth in such sort that it maketh one sick to behold them."

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. Fifty cents and $1 per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, nail rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by S. J. Hodgkinson.

Viavi Is King.

Visitors to Reno, are cordially invited to call and investigate the merits of Viavi. I have sold since June, 1892, $13,900 worth, this speaks its value without further words.

Mrs. B. E. HUNTER, Fourth Street.

School Shoes.

Tassel Brothers have a large and fine assortment of shoes for school children which parents are invited to call and inspect as they are being sold at a very low rate.

Have you piles? Use Sano, prepared by the Viavi Company. It reaches the worst cases. Try it.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gundersman, of Diamond Lake, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at River Junction she was brought down with Pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Regular size, 50 cts. and $1.

Viavi Cures.

Have you catarrh? Use liquid Viavi. Is your blood poor? Use Viavi tonic. Have you stomach trouble? Use Viavi tablets. Have you a cold? Use Viavi cerate. Have the children burned themselves? Use Viavi cerate.

Use it whenever there is pain or inflammation.

Have you rheumatism? Use ammoniated arnica.

Have you piles? Use Sano.

Have you uterine trouble? Use the Viavi capsules and cerate.

Diphtheria Cure.

The testimony of a prominent physician:

FOUNTAIN CITY, Ind., June 17, 1895.

"This certifies that I have been using V. O. in my practice. I have never found any medical preparation in 46 years of practice that is calculated to do so much good in so wide a range of diseases and leave no after bad effects. In Diphtheria it has proved a perfect specific in my hands, and I had rather depend on it alone in that dreadful disease than the whole popular Materia Medica with that left out."

Unleash a Leopard to Death.

Carl Akoley, taxidermist of the U. S. old Columbian museum, who went to Africa with other scientists after specimens of large game for the institution, has had an experience out of the common. He and a native were hunting one day, when he saw a leopard crouched in the brush. He fired at it. A shot hurriedly fired from a rifle picked the beast in one hind leg, and the next instant the man and leopard were in a mix up that was mighty serious for both, but more especially for the man.
Akoley, however, has got powerful arms and a good grip, and that saved him.
He got the leopard by the throat and choked it to death, with no other injury than a lacerated arm.—New York Sun.

Caution.
A highlander was tried for a capital offense and had rather a narrow escape, but the jury found him "not guilty," whereupon the judge, in discharging, though fit to admonish him. "Prisoner, before you leave the bar let me give you a piece of advice. You have got off this time, but if ever you come before me again I'll be certain you'll be hanged."
"Thank you, my lord," answered Donald, "and as I'm no ngrateful, I beg to give your lordship a piece of advice in return. Never be cautious for anybody, for the cautioner has often to pay the debt."—Scottish Nights.

How Papa Said Grace.
"At our house the other night we had a Methodist minister to tea," said a friend. "The domestic said grace, and when he ceased asking the blessing the 1-year old daughter of the hostess, who sat opposite the minister, looked up and said, 'That's not the kind of grace my papa says.'"
"No? What kind of grace does your papa say?" asked the minister. "Why, he came home last night, and when he sat down to the table he just said,
'Good God, what a supper!'" was the reply.—Buffalo Courier.

Grant's Cude Breakfast.
It was just before the battle of the "Blood-uss." The members of the local societies were assembled to partake of a breakfast. The general made a pathetic singular meal preparatory to so exhausting a day as that which was to follow. He took a cucumber, sliced it, poured some vinegar over it and partook of nothing else except a cup of strong coffee. The first thing he did after rising from the table was to call for a fresh supply of cigars. His colored servant Bill brought him two dozen. After lighting one of them he filled his pocket with the rest. He then went over to the knoll and began to walk back and forth slowly upon the cleared portion of the ridge.—General Horace Porter in Century.

Fortcoming Information.
Parishioner—Doctor, what is the exact nature of the union between the real and the body?
The Rev. Dr. Faithfully—My dear brother, there are some mysteries I have never attempted to penetrate. But I have a young friend, the Rev. O. Howe Wice, a recent graduate of our theological seminary, who is writing a sermon on that very subject and will deliver it one week from next Sunday. Don't fail to go and hear him.—Chicago Tribune.

The Osprey.
In the highlands of Scotland at the present time the osprey usually makes its nest in the flat top of a pine tree, but formerly it just as frequently selected a battlement or a chimney of some ruin generally on an island. The nest is a pile of sticks as much as four feet high and as many broad—the accumulation of many years—intermixed with turf and other vegetable matter, lined with fine twigs and finally with grass, much of it often green.
